ROYAL Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure
A GRAPE CREAM OF TARTAR BAKING POWDER
It makes the most delicious and healthful hot breads, biscuit and cake
FREE FROM ALUM, LIME OR PHOSPHATIC ACID

Alum baking powders are unhealthy. Do not use them for raising food under any circumstances. So detrimental are alum baking powders considered, that in most foreign countries their sale is prohibited. In many States in this country the law compels alum powders to be branded to show that they contain this dangerous acid, while in the District of Columbia, Congress has prohibited the sale of all food that contains alum.

Alum baking powders are sold to consumers at from 10 cents a pound to 25 cents for 25 cents, or 25 cents a pound, and when not branded may generally be distinguished by their price.

Catholic Lenten Rules.

No change has been made this year in the Lenten regulations issued for guidance of members of the Catholic church, the rules being the same as in former years. The regulations are about the same in each diocese, and the following rules will be observed during the forty days of Lent, beginning Wednesday, Feb. 28:

All Fridays and fast days during the year are days of abstinence from flesh meat. On Saturdays, which by law are also days of abstinence, flesh meat is allowed by Apostolic indult at all meals, unless they happen to be fast days.

The following are fast days of obligation: All days of Lent (except Sundays) the Ember Days; the Vigils of Easter; of Ascension; of Corpus Christi; of All Saints; and of Christmas; lastly the Fridays of Advent.

On fast days only one full meal a day is allowed to persons obliged to fast. But indult and custom allow coffee, tea, chocolate, with a piece of bread in the morning, and the use of eggs, butter, milk, etc. in the evening.

For sufficient reason the collation (snack) may be taken at noon and the dinner or principal meal in the evening.

During Lent, by Apostolic indult, flesh meat is allowed only at the principal meal on week days, except all Wednesdays and Fridays, and also the Saturdays in Ember week and Holy week. On fast days flesh meat and fish (including oysters, crabs, frogs, turtles, etc.) are never allowed at the same meal, a rule which even to the Sundays in Lent, and to all persons however otherwise excused or dispensed from the law of either abstinence or fast. But meals may always be prepared with the drippings of either fat or lard.

Persons excused from fast may use flesh meat more than once on the days when it is allowed at all, whether in Lent or outside of that season.

Catholics having attained the sufficient age of reason are bound by the law of abstinence. But when it is either physically or morally impossible to observe the law, or when it entails serious difficulties, they are excused from it.

In virtue of apostolic faculties granted us by the holy see we hereby delegate pastors to dispense, in each single case, from abstinence, the men actually engaged in threshing as well as the farmer families at whose place threshing is going on.

Catholics having completed their twenty-first year of age are bound to fast. But the causes of excuse just mentioned in regard to abstinence, apply also to the law of fasting. Hence the church ordinarily exempts from fasting the sick and those feeble in health (whether by sickness or old age), women nursing children, all who are engaged in laborious or exhausting occupations. Persons in doubt whether they are excused or not should consult their confessor or pastor for advice or dispensation.

In virtue of an apostolic indult we permit workmen and their families the use of flesh meat at the principal common meal on all fast days and abstinence days throughout the year, with the exception of Fridays, Ash Wednesday and Saturday of holy week and the eve of Christmas.

Persons excused or dispensed from the law of fast or abstinence ought to perform some other good works of Christian penance and sanctification. Hence the pious custom of giving Lenten alms.

"Redeem thou thy sins with alms, and thy iniquities with works of mercy," Dan. IV, 24. Also the custom of abstaining from intoxicating drinks, of staying away from theatres, dances, card parties, and other profane amusements, etc.

To Form Federation.

The Women's clubs of this city will hold a meeting on Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the Methodist church for the purpose of discussing the feasibility of federating the different clubs of the city. Those who are interested in the matter are requested to be present.

Civil Service Jobs.

The State civil service commission advertises a general competitive examination must be received by the commission before March 4th. Information may be obtained from local examiners or from the State civil service commission at Madison.

Eligible lists have been made up as a result of this examination and several positions have already been filled from this list.

Position	Passed	Failed	Total
Attendants	13	5	18
Bookkeepers	25	30	55
Clerks	137	73	210
Engineers	20	2	22
Factory inspectors	25	71	96
Firemen	10	1	11
Game wardens	46	22	68
Guards	24	6	30
Readers	11	4	15

All persons who passed the examination for the position of attendant in hospitals for the insane and feeble minded, have been certified for appointment and the list is already exhausted. The commission is therefore anxious to receive applications from persons who are willing to accept these positions. Attendants in the above institutions act in the capacity of nurses, and it can be readily understood, therefore, that it is of the most importance that this service be improved so far as possible. It is hoped that in the near future opportunity may be offered to employees to receive some elementary professional training for this work.

Domestic Workers Wanted.

It has been impossible thus far to supply the demand for women to act as cooks, housemaids, dining room girls, etc., in the state institutions. Salaries range from $15 to $25 a month with maintenance. Candidates must fill out application but no examination is required.

Skilled Laborers Wanted.

At this writing a tailor is needed at the Green Bay Reformatory. Salary $25 a month and dinner. This position will be filled without a scholastic examination. Applicants will be graded according to their previous experience and efficiency.

Skilled mechanics should file applications with the commission for the kind of service desired.

Getting Back at the Railroads.

It is said that some of the eastern railroads have abandoned their newspaper advertising and as a consequence have cut off the newspapers from receiving any more transportation over their roads. In some instances it is said that the newspapers have retaliated by passing resolutions at all meetings in which they say that all accidents on the railroad and that hereafter there will be no attempt to cover up matters that might be detrimental to the business of the roads.

This is virtually admitting that heretofore the newspapers have been in the habit of smoothing things over and concealing any facts that might be detrimental to the roads, which is not saying very much for the papers. No doubt the action of the roads will be a good thing for the people, whether it is for them or the newspapers, and the general public will be apt to get hold of the facts that they have not been doing heretofore. We actually think that it would be better for the greater number of people if the free transportation system were abolished in all parts of the country. The railroad would then pay for what it got and the newspaper man would do the same. Many a newspaper man would be able to give his subscribers a better paper each week if it were impossible for him to travel on a pass.

Will Not Admit Ignorance.

We notice that many of the country papers about the state are telling their subscribers that one of the subjects that they will be called to vote upon this year is the Dunn multi-colored pocket ballot. They say that the voter should look the matter up and inform himself on the subject before he votes either way. This is all the advice they give on the subject and they do not tell us what the ballot is like or anything else about it. We are willing to admit that the subject is one that the voter should investigate, and we are also willing to admit that it is a subject on which we are just as ignorant as any of the rest of them. One bad feature is that it is almost impossible to inform oneself on the matter, and in a case of this kind there should be some general information sent out that would instruct the voter on the matter. It may be a good thing, and we really think it is, but we may be mistaken.

A Newspaper-Reading People.

Butte Inter-Mountain.—The per capita consumption of paper in the United States is the highest in the world, and of this amount the bulk is for daily newspapers. More than 650,000 tons of newspapers were printed in 1904, the total value of the paper being about $23,000,000. In 1890 less than 197,000 tons at a cost of $13,000,000, supplied the demand. In 1890 we were the greatest newspaper-reading people on earth and today we read three or four times as much. The greater part of advertising is done on paper and a greater part of the paper consumed is by newspapers. The conclusion is obvious—the advertiser has found the newspaper the most profitable field for investment. It is reckoned that by judicious advertising throughout the nation a manufacturer or dealer may reach 990 per cent of the buyers at a comparatively small cost.

Sketch of W. H. Timlin.

William H. Timlin is a native son of Wisconsin, born May 28th, 1852, at Mequon, Ozaukee County. His father, Edward Timlin, was one of the early settlers of the state, and a man of some local prominence, having been county treasurer of Washington County at a time when that county included Ozaukee. William H. Timlin was left an orphan at a very early age, and his advantages were few and practically confined to the common schools. By diligence and a natural love of study, he acquired an excellent education and was successfully employed as teacher, county superintendent of schools, stenographer and lawyer.

He was admitted to the bar in 1877, and began the practice of law at Keneshaw, Wisconsin, as a member of the firm of Seligman & Timlin, January 1st, 1879. The senior member, Mr. Seligman, moved to Manitowish and Mr. Timlin remained at Keneshaw as a member of the firm of Timlin & Matuson for seven years, then moved to Green Bay and from there to Milwaukee, where as a member of the firm of Seligman & Timlin, and Timlin & Glickman, he has practiced law for about twenty years.

Mr. Timlin has been counsel in a good deal of the heaviest litigation in the state, but he has never been known as a "corporate lawyer" or a lobbyist. His work in the supreme court runs through the last seventy volumes of the Wisconsin reports. He has taken no part in politics and is a man of broad and liberal views, and although a vigorous fighter in court, is always disposed to be just towards friends and enemies.

Like many of the men prominent in American history, he is pre-eminently a self-educated man, and those who know him best, speak in the highest terms of his attainments. The greatest esteem in which he is held in Milwaukee, where he has lived so long, is best shown by the practical unanimity with which his fellow citizens, irrespective of occupation or party, have called upon him to become a candidate for the supreme bench.

Telephone Officers Elected.

The directors of the Wood County Telephone Co. held a meeting last Wednesday evening and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

President—Geo. W. Paulus.
Vice president—A. H. Klobner of Nokona.

Secretary—W. A. Drumb.
Treasurer—John E. Duly.

The matter of putting in a new cable across the bridge was discussed and it was decided to put in the cable and the president was instructed to buy same. This cable has been in use only about four years, but during that time it has been suspended from the bridge, and the constant jar has had a tendency to crack and break the outside covering of lead, and the consequence is that water has got into the conductors and there has been a great deal of trouble from short circuits or induction. The cable has been put out of commission entirely on account of short circuits. The cable that runs up First street, is also in poor shape, and it was decided to replace this part of the system also.

Pulp Wood is Scarce.

Local papermakers report that there has never been a time when pulp wood was so scarce as at the present time. This is caused to a certain extent by the warm weather that has prevailed during the past winter, thus to a certain extent curtailing the output. Those who have investigated the matter report that the visible supply is not over sixty per cent of what it should be to supply the demand for the coming summer, and the indications are that there will be a serious shortage before the next winter comes round. These conditions, combined with a low market, make the outlook for the paper industry anything but encouraging. It is reported that many of the smaller and old fashioned mills are running along with a hope that better prices will prevail some time in the future, and that they are making nothing whatever at the present time.

After the Issues.

Marshfield Times.—When Senator LaFollette left the state, he should have made his will, and thus avoided the scramble among his followers as to who is to have the honor of being foster-father to each of his various reform measures. The great bone of contention at present is the two-cent fare measure, several of the halfhearted after public approval being engaged in a squabble to see who can talk the loudest about it first and thus annex it to his stock of "issues." Among the early Mormons the man who could steal the most goods from the gentiles was highest in rank, and among the reformers the man who can steal the greatest number of LaFollette's "issues," will no doubt take precedence.

Warren-Fancette

Loren Warren and Miss Phyllis Fancette were married last Wednesday at Stevens Point and have gone to housekeeping west of the city.

Both of the young people are well known here, Mr. Warren being interested in a milk route in which line he has worked up a good business while Miss Fancette has been night operator in the telephone office for a number of years, during which time she made many friends by the efficient manner in which she attended to the wants of unreasonable telephone users. The Tribune wishes them and their many friends in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

Logging by Steam.

The Arpin Lumber company have a unique contrivance which they are using to assist in the work of logging in the northern part of the state. It is a locomotive that runs over an ordinary road and pulls after it a number of sleighs loaded with logs. The locomotive will run over almost anything, as it carries with it a portable track which it lays in front of the wheels and picks up after it has gone by, the endless track being in the shape of an endless belt with a track on it, the belt being composed of wood wide enough to prevent the machine from sinking into the ground.

Another improvement in log hauling and log loading that they have made, is a sleigh that can be loaded right onto a flat car without being unloaded and the logs left in place until the car is hauled to its destination, when the logs are rolled off, and the sleigh taken back. Anybody who has put in any time in the logging business knows that the work of loading the cars is no small job, and anything that will do away with handling the logs one time will cause a considerable saving.

The steam locomotive will haul an immense quantity of logs thru the woods at each trip and these are loaded onto the cars without any delay, so that after the first cost of buying the machinery and getting it into shape, logging can be done at a considerable saving. The company will probably get out about fifteen million feet of logs this year.

Will Hold a Poultry Show.

Grand Rapids is to have a poultry show next winter if everybody interested will help.

A meeting was held Tuesday afternoon in Egert & Pratt's land office and quite a large and enthusiastic crowd gathered. After discussing the matter of organizing an association for the purpose of interesting the farmers and traders in general, to raise more and better poultry, it was moved that we proceed to organize with the result that an association was formed to be known as the Grand Rapids Poultry and Pot Stock Association, and the following officers were elected:

President—L. M. Nash.
Vice president—Dr. V. P. Norton.
Secretary—B. G. Egert.
Treasurer—T. J. Cooper.

Board of directors—L. D. Turner, D. M. Huntington, J. W. Fitch, Geo. W. Snyder, John Rasmussen, F. G. Gilkey and T. J. Cooper were chosen to solicit donations from the various business houses to assist in raising funds to hold a poultry show next winter and if this committee meets with success, a poultry show for next winter is a sure go.

There is no question but an association of this kind will prove of great benefit to the city and country and the projectors are to be encouraged in their work.

Unappreciated Liberality.

Stevens Point has just recovered from an effort to induce a manufacturer to locate in their city, and the following from the Journal of that city is interesting reading just at present.

"If the paper in regard to the seven of these cities made a 'Time' at the people of this city to the fact that they should never petition the legislature to do an ill-considered act, it will also have had another good effect. The average public body is usually true enough with the people's money without being petulant to do a thing the law says it may not do, as in private affairs, it is frequently better to bear the ill than to have a public body to do by induction what it may not do directly, to 'chase the devil around the stump,' as the saying is, is at all times generous. The legislature has very wisely guarded the people's interests in the matter of appropriations of public money, and in regard to so-called indebtedness it has said what common councils may and may not do, and for the public to petition to have these laws disregarded and set at naught can but have a very demoralizing effect and in the end may lead to disastrous results.

It is because they disregarded the law that eastern insurance officials got into such serious difficulties. For the same reason the bonds of the big parking houses and prominent railroad men have been hated into court. Precedents are sometimes very dangerous things and for this reason public officials, instead of being petitioned to do an unlawful act, should be held strictly to the letter and spirit of the law. Particularly is this true in the matter of public funds. There is no law that even permits the people to vote on the question of offering bonuses or subsidies and it is hoped that after the experience we have just had, this community will never again put itself in the position of asking the legislature to do an act which everybody knows it has no legal right to do."

Platform of Rooman.

Rev. Father Rooman, pastor of St. Mary's church of De Pere, was lately suggested as a candidate for mayor of that city. The suggestion was somewhat original and attracted considerable attention, as Father Rooman is a man of sterling qualities and has many friends in the city of De Pere. In an interview he gave out his reasons for declining the nomination but proposed a platform which he declares would be sure to elect the man adopting it. The following is the interview:

"Well," said he, "my position as pastor precludes all thought of being a candidate. But I have no hesitation in declaring the platform I would stand on were it possible for me to be a candidate.

"First, I would demand that crossings be built at a number of street intersections that are now without them. It is not very pleasant to get off a street car at night and walk into a ditch because the crossing is missing.

"Second, I would insist on more lights on the back streets, even if the front streets had less.

"Third, that saloons be closed promptly at 11 o'clock Saturday night and during Sunday forenoon; that they be compelled to conduct their business with the curtains up and without stalls or wine rooms.

"Fourth, I would favor more policemen and a night watchman to enforce the laws.

"Fifth, no saloonkeeper should be a member of the city council.

Father Rooman then declared that on such a platform any citizen could be elected, because he would have the support of the great majority of the people, who are in favor of such measures. —Green Bay Advocate.

Natural History Specimen.

D. M. Huntington has recently added to his collection of mounted animals and birds a porcupine, which is a very fine specimen, and is mounted in a manner that makes it look very life like. There was a time when the porcupine was a common animal thru Wisconsin, but as civilization advanced and the timber been cut off, the porcupine has gradually disappeared, until at the present time it is almost extinct in this part of the country. The fact that they are very slow travelers, being able to plod along no faster than a walk, had added very materially to their disappearance, and when mobbed they make no attempt to defend themselves other than to curl up and present their quills to the enemy. This often discourages the four footed enemy, but the man or boy with a club or gun has nothing to fear and the general outcome is that the porcupine loses his life. They are comparatively harmless animals, although at times disturb woodsmen by gnawing the handles of axes or other implements. They have a fine pair of front teeth for gnawing purposes and will eat up a set of deer horns in a short time, if left lying in the woods where there are a number of them about.

Teachers Examinations.

Teachers examinations for the spring of 1906 will be held as follows: Pittsville, March 22, 23 and 24. Grand Rapids, March 25, 26 and 27. Marshfield, March 29, 30 and 31. All teachers whose certificates expire before the end of this school year must attend one of these examinations.

Raffling on Wisconsin.

At the mills this morning the raffling according to a certain system, and the following from the Journal of that city is interesting reading just at present.

"If the paper in regard to the seven of these cities made a 'Time' at the people of this city to the fact that they should never petition the legislature to do an ill-considered act, it will also have had another good effect. The average public body is usually true enough with the people's money without being petulant to do a thing the law says it may not do, as in private affairs, it is frequently better to bear the ill than to have a public body to do by induction what it may not do directly, to 'chase the devil around the stump,' as the saying is, is at all times generous. Want Tax Removed.

An effort is being made to have the tax removed from alcohol, which has been repealed under the new law. It is claimed that the manufacture of a lot of different things are out of it in this country, on account of the water in the tax on alcohol. It is stated by a good authority that Germany produces 100,000,000 gallons of alcohol annually for industrial purposes, and that the United States produces only 12,000,000 gallons annually for all purposes, the manufacture having been suppressed by the tax. It is claimed that the removal of the tax would greatly stimulate the manufacture and use, and would allow the manufacture of many different commodities in this country that are now manufactured abroad.

The Defendant was Discharged.

One Henschel had John Mann arrested one day last week for the purpose of having him bound over to keep the peace. Henschel claimed that Mann had been lawless for him with a Winchester rifle with the intention of shooting him, but no evidence could be produced to sustain the charge. When the matter was tried in court it was found that Mann was jealous of Henschel, and other men about town, whom he claimed had been paying attention to his wife, but it looked very much as if the matter was only imagination on the part of Mr. Mann, and he was discharged from custody.

Arrested on Another Charge.

Frank Mazur was again arrested last week, this time on a charge of having sold lottery tickets. An indictment was taken for March and when it is expected that it will come up for trial. Mr. Mazur is the manager of the Grand Rapids Tailoring Co., and the arrest comes from the fact that he is charged with running a suit club.

The ladies of the Congregational church held a supper at the church parlors last Wednesday evening which was largely attended. The attendance was so large that it was impossible for the ladies to accommodate even one-half of the hungry ones at the first table, and the waiters were kept hustling for a couple of hours as fast as they could get it. It was a great success from start to finish.

In Appleton a quiet investigation is going on to see if one of the candidates for an office has not violated the primary law. The law limits the number of signatures a candidate may secure to 10 per cent of his party vote, and any one getting more than that number subjects himself to a fine of $20 to $500, or imprisonment in the county jail from ten days to six months. It is claimed that the Appleton man has violated the law in this respect, and however that may be it behooves all candidates to be careful.

Civil war veterans who seek pensions will not hereafter be required to undergo an examination to prove a physical disability as in the past, a pension order issued some time ago, now having become a law by act of congress. Under the old law a veteran seeking a pension had to submit to an examination by surgeons and be pronounced disabled as a result of his service and many have been barred from pensions because of the refusal of the examining boards to report. The new law is a part of the pension appropriation bill of the present congress.

The following excellent clipping was taken from an exchange. It is something which all of us would do well to remember. Clip the same out and put it where you will see it often. "It is always better to wait for evil than to be passing judgment. When you hear reports detrimental to young ladies or gentlemen, don't be hasty in forming conclusions. It is better to be charitable when any one is in trouble. Today it is somebody else's girl or boy; tomorrow it may be yours. Trouble comes to us all and we should be willing to extend the same we expect from others. Gossip distorts and magnifies occurrences that have no foundation. In fact an injustice is often done to innocent parties."

Mellen Weekly.—Geo. Puleifer has taken charge of the work at the Penokee mine in the absence of Anton Peterson, who has gone to Madison to attend the meeting of the Supervisors of Assessors, held there this week. Upon the return of Mr. Peterson it is planned to put on night and day shifts and hustle the work along. The quicksand has at last been conquered and the shaft is now going down rapidly. It is expected that the ledge will be found soon and the ore will be near it. Some of the experts think that the ore will be found without encountering the ledge, but all agree that it is to be found eventually.

Today is Ash Wednesday, the beginning of the lenten season, and the festivities that have been the rule for some weeks past will now have a let up and the people who have taken part in them will have a chance to recuperate from the round of pleasure they have been indulging in. People who believe in the observance of the lenten season tell us that it is a good thing, as even society goes should take a rest occasionally. But when they go about four times as strong just before lent, in order to work in as many Lenten days as they would have provided they did not observe lent, we can hardly see the force of their argument.

How to Treat Bettle Hair.
When the hair is very brittle it denotes some wrong about which a physician should be consulted. An external help may be had in this shampoo: Beat up one yolk of an egg, add ten drops of oil of sweet almonds, a tea-spoon of warm water (not boiling) and twenty drops of spirits of rosemary. Then stir. Leave the mixture on the scalp ten minutes, gently manipulating with the finger tips all the time. Then rinse and dry with fresh warm towels.

Kill the Sparrows.
We believe that the English sparrow should not have a place on any farm in the United States. The cities are overrun with them and they are reaching out on farms. On farms where there are straw sheds and other convenient nesting places they increase at a wonderful rate. One pair of sparrows will rear on an average of twenty-four young ones in a single season. Is it any wonder that they soon become troublesome?
The sparrow is one of the poultry man's worst enemies since it is a harbinger of mites and a distributor as well. It is useless to fight mites and at the same time let sparrows have full possession and free-range of the farm. The sparrows can propagate the mites faster than the most industrious man can destroy them.
We advise a general slaughter of this pest. Give the sons and daughters so much for every sparrow head and encourage their destruction. We did this on our farm and the youngsters went to work and tore off the top of an old straw shed and got scores of young birds and a great collection of eggs. Then one boy made a snuffball and elevated it in a tree on which he placed poisoned food for them to get. This was in the winter time when there was no danger of any other birds getting the poisoned food. This boy sold more sparrow heads than any other and the farm was rid of sparrows. Guns were brought into requisition to keep them down. Let the good work of killing sparrows go on.—Wisconsin Farmer.

When near Neenah, King went into the closet and jumped through the window and escaped. When the leap was made the train was running at the rate of twenty miles an hour.

AMONG CRANBERRY MEN.

EDITED BY W. H. FITCH.

About Cranberry Growing.

Grand Rapids Journal:—Cranberry growing will perhaps some day be an important industry in Burnett county. At present the cultivation of this fruit is little understood by the average soil tiller, that it attracts but little attention and commands less thought and study.

But that Burnett county has some admirably adapted locations for this branch of horticulture, if that term may be applied to the cranberry industry, is well known. Locations for good cranberry marshes are scarce, but Burnett county has a few. The cultivated marsh located nearest to Burnett county, that is beginning to net returns to its owners, is the Waterman cranberry marsh at Cumberland. A late issue of the Cumberland Advance contains the following concerning this industry, though now so little understood, may some day rank among the foremost of the county.

A practically new, yet highly important industry of Cumberland, is that of cranberry culture. While not strictly classified with manufacturing industries, it promises to become an important factor in the growth of northern Wisconsin.

Cranberry marshes as a rule, are scarce. There are but very few of them in the county. The Waterman marsh, owned and operated by former Mayor S. H. Waterman and his son, B. H. Waterman, northwest of this city, is becoming one of the best marshes in the state and promises rich returns to the owners. This marsh was cleared a short time ago, the first crop was gathered last season and a good yield was secured.

Adjoining the Waterman marsh is found the Cumberland Cranberry company's marsh, comprising eighty acres of marsh, excellently adapted to the cultivation of cranberries.

The Cumberland Cranberry company was organized and incorporated under the laws of Wisconsin, a little over a year ago, with a capital stock of $50,000. The head offices of the company are located in Grand Rapids and the following officers manage this concern: President, S. H. Waterman; vice president, B. H. Waterman; secretary, C. F. Stroh; treasurer, A. H. Miller; directors, W. B. Cross, H. H. Woodcock, Duluth, S. H. Hines, C. G. Hudgins, A. H. Miller, S. H. Waterman, and B. H. Waterman, Cumberland.

The Cumberland Cranberry company commenced the work of preparing for cultivation of its marsh soon after the organization was perfected. The land was cleared, ditches dug, dams built, a pump station with ten horse power engine was put in and fifteen acres were placed in shape for cultivation. A score has been established at the marsh, and manager B. H. Waterman has the plants on hand ready to put in just as soon as the weather will permit, this spring. During the past year, the company has expended $5,000 in making improvements on its marsh and in placing it in shape for cultivation. Preparations are now being made to make additional improvements and increase the average crop next season. The company employs from fifteen to twenty men on the marsh and at the pump station during the year.

At the time the Cumberland Cranberry company was organized, cranberries were selling at $5.50 per barrel and the fact that they have been advanced to $18 per barrel indicates the amount of money that may be made from the business, and had the company been in shape to have a crop in last season, the stockholders would have realized heavily on their investment. In any event the raising of cranberries in this section promises to become a prominent and paying industry, and the Cumberland Cranberry company is destined to become one of the leading and most prosperous concerns of the kind in the northwest.

Correspondence.

Meridian, Miss., Jan. 13, 1908.
W. H. Fitch, Cranberry Men, Wis.
Dear Sir:—I have read in "The Farmer," of a meeting of Wis. cranberry growers and am becoming interested, and decided to write you, asking for information concerning their growth, cultivation, etc.

Do you think they will grow here? How can I obtain a start? What is their yield and particularly in general? By answering these questions you will greatly oblige. Yours truly,
C. M. Hodgson, R. F. D. 4, Meridian, Miss.

Reply.

In reply, Mr. Fitch, the writer has received answers of your communication to our assistance, Hon. John A. Gaylor of Grand Rapids, and he is of the opinion that cranberries could not be grown commercially profitable in your section, and in a friendly report suggests that if you will raise points, you will raise cranberries.

As Judge Gaylor is regarded a very high, if not the highest authority on cranberry culture, his advice is well worth consideration and concern. I enclose some clippings from our official paper on the subject of your inquiry, and would also say that owing to the necessity of keeping a large reserve of water for flooding purposes, unless you were in a locality devoted to the main to the growing of cranberries, you would, probably, be affected and annoyed by antagonistic interests of neighboring owners.

Springfield, Mass., Jan. 28, 1908.

Mr. W. H. Fitch, Sec'y, Cranberry Men, Wis.

Dear Sir:—We desire to publish a brief statement of the value of government weather bureau station to cranberry growers. Anything you may care to say about this work in Wisconsin, will be appreciated. I understand one of the bureau stations is located near Warren, Wisconsin. Is this correct? [Appleton, Wis. near Mr. Fitch.] How many stations of the weather bureau are located in Wisconsin and where? [Mather, Berlin, City Point, State Experimental station at Cranberry.]

Very truly,
D. M. Huntington, Sole agent, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Ed. L. Post of Olanoweth, returned Monday from a trip to the cities. He attended a meeting of the promoters of the Olanoweth cranberry marsh and town site. Preliminary steps have been taken for the incorporation of the company and it is expected to soon perfect its organization. Bonds will be floated and operations begun as soon as it can be done after the new corporation is launched upon the sea of industrial activity. Development of the cranberry marsh, the platting of a town site, and the promotion of a railroad point to the new town site, are the three principal objects of the proposed corporation. Did growers in your state take the initiative in this work, or was it started elsewhere? In other words, how long since was the first station established in Wisconsin?

Thanking you for your many contents of the past, I remain,

Respectfully,

Answer.

A recent weather bureau aid and assistance to cranberry growers, it may be stated that the incentive and initiative work on the part of the U. S. government was in August 1903, when Prof. Willis L. Moore, Cranberry Growers Association of Wisconsin, was invited to the University of Wisconsin, and a vote of thanks was tendered him for the interest he had in benefitting the cranberry growers. Ever since that progress has been made, both along the lines of enlightenment and enlightenment, according to the point of view taken, and it has been stated that the coming season, Prof. H. J. Cox, the distinguished section director of Chicago, Ill., is to give special time and thought to the systematic and scientific study of the peculiar conditions germane to cranberry growing districts.

John A. Gaylor of Grand Rapids, Wis., statistician of our association, and one of, if not the highest current authority on the cultural and commercial side of the cranberry, I am sure would take great pains and pleasure in advising you fully as to the wisdom and worth of natural cooperation as well as original work, and the writer will take the first opportunity of calling his attention to your wishes in matter, unless in the meantime you may find it advantageous and agreeable to communicate with him directly.

At the request of W. H. Fitch, (editor), and the permission of the editor of the Tribune, that I should criticize any mis-statements that were published in the Tribune regarding cranberries, no matter who made them, I will commence on the editor first, while the permission is fresh.

1st. In his published address before the association Jan. 9, he said that this year there had been more people engaged in the business than ever before in the history of the world, and yet cranberries have been in greater demand and brought higher prices than ever before. If this were true, and it was the effect of the number of growers in the business, as he leaves us to infer, then we have a new factor on which to fix future prices. One statistician should note it. The Bible says that the fool in his heart hath said, "There is no God." Others (and fools) may leave out the first part (and say the Bible says, "There is no God." Let us have the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

The facts are that in the early day of cranberry growing on Cape Cod, at one time they were sold at 40 dollars a barrel and I can remember when I saw the statement in the newspaper that Carey Brothers of Berlin, Wis., had shipped some of their cranberries to California and received 25 dollars a barrel, and I caught the cranberry fever from that statement.

The fact is that the present high price was caused by the small crop which was reduced in many places on Cape Cod just before picking, by hail and in others by the fruit worm which they claimed in many places, took fifty per cent of the crop.

When the crops were gathered in and sold, the buyers then raised the price and lined their own pockets. The growers did not get the advance only in a few cases. The buyers the year before, had lost thousands of barrels in the spring of 1907. Thousands of barrels of cranberries were dumped in the east, and some grown within miles of Grand Rapids were dumped in Milwaukee by the carload, for which the growers had been paid, and the buyers lost. In the east they suffered the most loss. How many growers must have died suddenly. Not many years ago, I was told by a man who bought berries for the Stanley's of Chicago, of growers in Wisconsin, that the Stanley's had dumped 8000 barrels that spring, into Lake Michigan. I know that they shipped on a barrel of Ball & Bugle to plant and did not even charge us for cartage.

Again the editor says, "But I think that this thinning out the part of the grower is not warranted by the facts. The amount of cranberries raised today would not give each person in the world one berry a piece probably, if they were apportioned out."

I counted out a legal quart (1 lb.) of medium sized cranberries and find that after giving to each person on earth, including infants, that several of our single crops, late years, would give them all that amount and still leave thirteen billion and five hundred millions of berries for the next generation.

Rush to Plant Cranberries.

Wareham, Mass., Nov. 28, 1905. The high prices of cranberries this season is having the usual result of stimulating growers to larger acreages in the fruit, and now there is every prospect of increasing interest for next season. Last year at this time cranberries brought about $5 and $6.50 per barrel, while now they are quoted at from $8 to $10.

Catholic Lenten Rules.

No change has been made this year in the Lenten regulations issued for guidance of members of the Catholic church, the rules being the same as in former years. The regulations are about the same in each diocese, and the following rules will be observed during the forty days of Lent, beginning Wednesday, Feb. 28.

All Fridays and fast days during the year are days of abstinence from flesh meat. On Saturdays, which by law are also days of abstinence, flesh meat is allowed by Apostolic indult at all meals, unless they happen to be fast days.

The following are fast days of obligation: All days of Lent (except Sundays), the Ember days, the Vigils of Eves of Pentecost, of Assumption, B. V. M., of All Saints, and of Christmas; lastly the Fridays of Advent.

On fast days only one full meal a day is allowed to persons obliged to fast. But indult and custom allow coffee, tea, chocolate, with a piece of bread in the morning, and the use of eggs, butter, milk, etc., in the evening.

For sufficient reason the collision (break) may be taken at noon and the dinner or principal meal in the evening.

During Lent, by Apostolic indult, which is allowed only on the principal meal on week days, except all Wednesdays and Fridays, and also the Saturdays in Ember week and Holy week. On fast days flesh meat and fish (including oysters, crabs, frogs, turtles, etc.) are never allowed at the same meal, a rule which even to the Sundays in Lent, and to all persons however otherwise excused or dispensed from the law of either abstinence or fast. But meals may always be prepared with the drippings of either fat or lard.

Persons excused from fast may use flesh meat more than once on the day when it is allowed at all, whether in the house or outside of that season.

Catholics having attained the sufficient use of reason are bound by the law of abstinence. But when it is either physically or morally impossible to observe the law, or when it entails serious difficulties, they are excused from it.

In virtue of apostolic faculties granted by the Holy see we hereby delegate pastors to dispense, in each single case, from abstinence, the men actually engaged in threshing as well as the farmer families at whose place threshing is going on.

Catholics having completed their twenty-first year of age are bound to fast. But the canons of canon law mentioned in regard to abstinence, apply also to the law of fasting. Hence the church ordinary's examples from fasting the sick and those feeble in health (whether by sickness or old age), women nursing children, all who are engaged in laborious or exhausting occupations. Persons in doubt whether they are excused or not should consult their confessor or pastor for advice or dispensation.

In virtue of an apostolic indult we permit workmen and their families the use of flesh meat at the principal common meal on all fast days and abstinence days throughout the year, with the exception of Fridays, Ash Wednesday and Saturday of Holy week and the eve of Christmas.

Persons excused or dispensed from the law of fast or abstinence ought to perform some other good works of piety and charity in the spirit of Christian penance and satisfaction. Hence the pious custom of giving Lenten alms.

"Refrain thou thy sins with abstinence, and thy iniquities with works of mercy," Dan. IV, 24. Also the custom of abstaining from intoxicating drinks, of staying away from theatres, dances, card parties, and other profane amusements, etc.

To Form Federation.

The Woman's club of this city will hold a meeting on Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the Methodist church for the purpose of discussing the feasibility of federating the different clubs of the city. Those who are interested in the matter are requested to be present.

It is hoped that in the near future opportunity may be offered to employees to receive some elementary professional training for this work.

Domestic Wanted

It has been impossible this far to supply the demand for women to act as cooks, housekeepers, dining room girls, etc., in the state institutions. Salaries range from $15 to $25 a month with maintenance. Candidates must fill out application but no examination is required.

Skilled Laborers Wanted.

At this writing a tailor is needed at the Green Bay Reformatory. Salary $35 a month and dinner. This position will be filled without a scholastic examination. Applicants will be graded according to their previous experience and efficiency.

Skilled mechanics should file applications with the commission for the kind of service desired.

It is said that some of the eastern railroads have abandoned their newspaper advertising and as a consequence have cut out the newspapers from receiving any more advertisements of their kind. In some instances it is said that the newspapers have retaliated by passing resolutions at their meetings in which they say that all accidents on the railroads will be reported just as they occur and that hereafter there will be no attempt to cover up matters that might be detrimental to the business of the roads.

This is virtually admitting that heretofore the newspapers have been in the habit of smothering things over and covering any fact that might be detrimental to the roads, which is not a good thing for the people, whether it is for them or the newspapers, and the general public will be apt to get hold of the facts that they have not been doing heretofore. We actually think that it would be better for the greater number of people if the free transportation system were abolished in all parts of the country.

It is a well known fact that, might be detrimental to the roads, which is not a good thing for the people, whether it is for them or the newspapers, and the general public will be apt to get hold of the facts that they have not been doing heretofore. We actually think that it would be better for the greater number of people if the free transportation system were abolished in all parts of the country.

Will Not Admit Ignorance.

We notice that many of the country papers about the state are telling their subscribers that one of the subjects that they will be called to vote upon this year is the Dime multi-colored pocket ballot. They say that the voter should look the matter up and inform himself on the subject before he votes either way. This is all the advice they give on the subject and they do not tell us what the ballot is like or anything else about it. We are willing to admit that the subject is one that the voter should investigate, and we are also willing to admit that it is a subject on which we are just as ignorant as any of the rest of them. One bad feature is that it is almost impossible to inform oneself on the matter, and in a case of this kind there should be some general information sent out that would instruct the voter on the matter. It may be a good thing, and we really think it is, but we may be mistaken.

A Newspaper-Reading People.

Butte Inter-Mountain:—The per capita consumption of paper in the United States is the highest in the world, and of this amount the bulk is for daily newspapers. More than 600,000 tons of newspapers were printed in 1904, the total value of the paper being about $23,000,000. In 1890 less than 107,000 tons at a cost of $18,000,000, supplied the demand. In 1890 we were the greatest newspaper-reading people on earth and today we read three or four times as much. The greater part of advertising is done on paper and a greater part of the paper consumed is by newspapers. The conclusion is obvious—the advertiser has found the newspaper the most profitable field for investment. It is reckoned that by judicious advertising through the nation a manufacturer or dealer may reach 90 per cent of the buyers at a comparatively small cost.

Warren-Faucette.

Loren Warren and Miss Phyllis Faucette were married last Wednesday at Stevens Point and have gone to homekeeping west of the city.

Both of the young people are well known here, Mr. Warren being interested in a milk route in which line he has worked up a good business while Miss Faucette has been night operator in the telephone office for a number of years, during which time she made many friends by the efficient manner in which she attended to the wants of unreasonably telephone users. The Tribune wishes with their many friends in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

Sketch of W. H. Timlin.

William H. Timlin is a native son of Wisconsin, born May 28th, 1876, at Menomonie, Ozaukee County. His father, Edward Timlin, was one of the early settlers of the state, and a man of some local prominence, having been county treasurer of Washington County at a time when that county included Ozaukee. William H. Timlin was left an orphan at a very early age, and his advantages were few and practically confined to the common schools. By diligence and a natural love of study, he acquired an excellent education and was successively school teacher, county superintendent of schools, stenographer and lawyer.

He was admitted to the bar in 1897, and began the practice of law at Kewaunee, Wisconsin, as a member of the firm of Sedgewick & Timlin, January 1st, 1899. The senior member, Mr. Sedgewick, moved to Manitowish and Mr. Timlin remained at Kewaunee as a member of the firm of Timlin & Gierke.

Mr. Timlin has been counsel in a good deal of the hardlock litigation in the state, but he has never seen what is known as a "corporation lawyer" or a lobbyist. His work in the supreme court runs through the last seven volumes of the Wisconsin reports. He has taken no part in politics and is a man of broad and liberal views, and although a vigorous fighter in court, is always disposed to be just towards friends and enemies.

Like most of the men prominent in American history, he is prominently a self-educated man, and those who know him best, speak in the highest terms of his attainments. The great esteem in which he is held in Milwaukee, where he has lived so long, is best shown by the practical unanimity with which his fellow citizens, irrespective of occupation or party, have called upon him to become a candidate for the supreme bench.

Telephone Officers Elected.

The directors of the Wood County Telephone Co. held a meeting last Wednesday evening and elected officers for the coming year as follows:

President—Geo. W. Paulsen.

Vice president—A. H. Kleberg of Nekoma.

Secretary—W. A. Drumb.

Treasurer—John B. Daly.

The matter of putting in a new cable across the bridge was discussed and it was decided to put in the cable and the president was instructed to buy same. This cable has been in use only about four years, but during that time it has been suspended from the bridge, and the constant jar has had a tendency to crack and break the outside covering of lead, and the consequence is that the water has got into the conductors and there has been a great deal of trouble from cross talk or induction, and several pairs of conductors have been put out of commission entirely on account of short circuits. The cable that runs up First street, is also in poor shape, and it was decided to replace this part of the system also.

Pulp Wood is Scarce.

Local papermakers report that there has been a dearth of pulp wood this winter so scarce as at the present time. This is caused to a certain extent by the warm weather that has prevailed during the past winter, thus to a certain extent curtailing the output. Those who have investigated the matter report that the visible supply is not over sixty per cent of what it should be to supply the demand for the coming summer, and the indications are that there will be a serious shortage before the next winter comes round. These conditions, combined with a low market, make the outlook for the paper industry anything but encouraging. It is reported that many of the small and old fashioned mills are running along with a hope that better prices will prevail some time in the future, and that they are making nothing whatever at the present time.

After the Issues.

Marshallfield Times:—When Souther LaFollette left the state, he should have made his will, and thus avoided the scramble among his followers, as to who is to have the honor of being foster-father to each of his various reform measures. The great bono of contention at present is the two-cent fare measure, several of the halfhearted after public approval being engaged in a squabble to see who can talk the loudest about it first and thus annex it to his stock of "issues." Among the early Mormons the man who could steal the most goods from the gentiles was highest in rank, and among the reformers the man who can steal the greatest number of LaFollette's "issues," will no doubt take precedence.

Logging by Steam.

The Arpin Lumber company have a unique contrivance which they are using to assist in the work of logging in the northern part of the state. It is a locomotive that runs on a number of logs loaded with logs. The locomotive will run over almost anything, as it carries with it a portable track which it lays in front of the wheels and picks up after it has gone by, the endless track being in the shape of an endless belt with a track on it, the belt being composed of wood wide enough to prevent the machine from sinking into the ground.

Another improvement in log hauling and log loading that they have made, is a sleigh that can be hauled right onto a flat car without being unloaded and the logs left in place until the car is hauled to its destination, when the logs are rolled off, and the sleighs taken back. Anybody who has put in any time in the logging business knows that the work of loading the cars is a small job, and anything that will do away with handling the logs one time will raise a considerable saving.

The steam locomotive will haul an immense quantity of logs through the woods at each trip and there are loaded onto the cars without any delay, so that after the first cost of having the machinery and getting it into shape, logging can be done at a considerable saving. The company will probably get out about fifteen million feet of logs this year.

Will Hold a Poultry Show.

Grand Rapids is to have a poultry show next winter if everybody interested will help.

A meeting was held Tuesday afternoon in Regent & Pratt's lunch office and quite a large and enthusiastic crowd gathered. After discussing the matter of organizing an association for the purpose of interesting the farmers and breeders in general, to raise more and better poultry, it was moved that we proceed to organize with the result that an association was formed to be known as the Grand Rapids Poultry and Poultry Show Association, and the following officers were elected:

President—L. M. Nash.
Vice president—Dr. V. P. Norton.
Secretary—B. G. Egbert.
Treasurer—J. J. Cooper.
Board of directors—L. D. Turner, D. M. Huntington, J. W. Pich, Geo. W. Snyder, John K. Johnson.

P. G. Gilkey and T. J. Cooper were chosen to solicit donations from the various business houses to assist in raising funds to hold a poultry show next winter and if this committee unites with success, a poultry show for next winter is a sure go.

There is no question but an association of this kind will prove of great benefit to the city and country and the projectors are to be encouraged in their work.

Unappreciated Liberty.

Stevens Point has just recovered from an effort to induce a manufacturer bring plant to locate in their city, and the following from the Journal of that city is interesting reading just at present.

"If the place in regard to the atmosphere of the city calls the attention of the people of this city to the fact that they should never petition the common council to do an illegal act, it will also have had another good effect. The average public body is usually too much with the people's money without being particular to do a thing the law says it may not do in matters of public concern, as well as in private affairs, it is frequently better to bear the ill we have than to do that we know not of." For a public body to do by induction what it may not do directly, to "chase the devil around the stump," as the saying is, is at all times dangerous.

The legislature has very wisely guarded the people's interest in the matter of appropriations of public money, and to regard to bond indebtedness, it has said what common sense may and may not do, and for the public to petition to have these laws disregarded and set at naught can but have a very demoralizing effect and in the end may lead to disastrous results. If the law may be disregarded in one respect, why not in another and where is it to stop?

It was because they disregarded the law that eastern industrial officials got into such serious difficulties. For the same reason the heads of the big packing houses and prominent railroad men have been hauled into court. Precedents are sometimes very dangerous things and for this reason public officials, instead of being particular to do an unlawful act, should be held strictly to the letter and spirit of the law. Particularly is this true in the matter of public funds. There is no law that even permits the people to vote on the question of altering bonds or salaries and it is hoped that after the experience we have just had, this community will never again put itself in the position of adding the council to do not which everybody knows it has no legal right to do."

Platform of Roomsmen.

Rev. Father Rosenmund, pastor of St. Mary's church of De Pere, was lately suggested as a candidate for mayor of that city. The suggestion was somewhat original and attracted considerable attention, as Father Rosenmund is a man of sterling qualities and has many friends in the city of De Pere. In an interview he gave out his reasons for declining the nomination but proposed a platform which he declared would be sure to elect him the mayor of the city. The following is the platform:

"First, I would demand that crosses be built at a number of street intersections that are now without them. It is not very pleasant to get off a street car at night and walk into a ditch because the crossing is not lit."

"Second, I would insist on more lights on the back streets, even if the front streets had less."

"Third, that saloons be closed promptly at 11 o'clock Saturday night and during Sunday forenoon; that they be compelled to conduct their business with the certainty and without stalls or wine rooms."

"Fourth, I would favor more policemen and a night watchman to enforce the laws."

"Fifth, no saloonkeeper should be a member of the city council."

Father Rosenmund declares that on such a platform any citizen could be elected, because he would have the support of the great majority of the people, who are in favor of such measures.—Green Bay Advocate.

Natural History Specimen.

D. M. Huntington has recently added to his collection of mounted animals and birds a porcupine, which is a very fine specimen, and is mounted in a manner that makes it look very life like. There was a time when the porcupine was a common animal thru Wisconsin, but as civilization has advanced and the timber been cut out the porcupine has gradually disappeared, until at the present time it is almost extinct in this part of the country. The fact that they are very slow travelers, being able to plod along no faster than a walk, and added very materially in their disappearance, and when molested they make no attempt to defend themselves other than to curl up and present their quills to the enemy. This often discourages the four footed enemy, but the man or boy with a club or gun has nothing to fear and the general outcome is that the porcupine loses his life. They are a comparatively harmless animal, although at times disturb woodmen by gnawing the handles of axes or other implements. They have a

Mr. Margatroyd started a brick yard at Vesper last season and reports that he has been getting along nicely, having made about 300,000 bricks. He is also making drain tile and reports that the clay out that way is first class for the purpose used.

The little girl, which was one of a pair of twins, had not enjoyed good health since her birth. The parents have the sympathy of all in their affliction.

Mrs. T. E. Mullen and Mrs. John Arpin entertained a large number of their friends at "Elmhurst" on Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. T. E. Mullen on High street and a very pleasant afternoon was spent by those in attendance. Two prizes were given the ladies for their skill, the first being captured by Mrs. A. L. Voss and the consolation by Mrs. T. A. Lipka.

Arthur Sweeney was taken to the Riverside hospital on Tuesday, suffering with a badly inflamed leg as the result of a cut from an ax which he sustained some time ago. The wound refused to heal and has given him a great deal of trouble, and was feared at one time that it would have to be amputated, but it is hoped to avoid this. Dr. Pomainville has charge of the case.

A. C. Otto, manager of Otto's pharmacy went to Chicago Tuesday evening, to be present at the opening of the Western Branch of the United Drug Co., the Royal firm, of which he is a member. Their business has increased to such an extent in the west that it necessitated opening a western department. It will be a business meeting of stockholders ending with a supper at Rector's.

O. Roosen, who was formerly station agent and postmaster at Rudolph, but who for the past three years has been in the employ of the Northern Pacific at Gardner, Mont., arrived in the city the fore part of the week to spend a few days visiting with friends. Gardner is at the entrance of the Yellowstone Park, and is probably as nice a place to live as could be found in the state, but Mr. Roosen seems to think that there is very little to recommend the western country to one who is looking for a home.

In Appleton a quiet investigation is going on to see if one of the candidates for an office has not violated the primary law. The law limits the number of signatures a candidate may secure to 10 per cent of his party vote, and any one getting more than that number subjects himself to a fine of $25 to $500, or imprisonment in the county jail from ten days to six months. It is claimed that the Appleton man has violated the law in this respect; and however that may be it behooves all candidates to be careful.

Civil war veterans who seek pensions will not hereafter be required to undergo an examination to prove physical disability as in the past, a pension order issued some time ago, now having become a law by act of congress. Under the old law a veteran seeking a pension had to submit to an examination by surgeons and be pronounced disabled as a result of his service and many have been barred from pensions because of the refusal of the examining boards to report.

The following excellent clipping was taken from an exchange. It is something which all of us would do well to remember. Clip the same out and put it where you will see it often. "It is always better to wait for evidence before passing judgment. When you hear reports detrimental to young ladies or gentlemen, don't be hasty in forming conclusions. It is better to be charitable when any one is in trouble. Today it is somebody else's girl or boy; tomorrow it may be yours. Trouble comes to us all and we should be willing to extend the same we expect from others. Gospel districts and magnifies occurrences that have no foundation. In fact an injustice is often done to innocent parties."

Kill the Sparrows.
We believe that the English sparrow should not have a place on any farm in the United States. The cities are overrun with them and they are reaching out on farms. On farms where there are straw sheds and other convenient nesting places they increase at a wonderful rate. One pair of sparrows will rear on an average of twenty-four young ones in a single season. Is it any wonder that they soon become troublesome?
The sparrow is one of the poultryman's worst enemies since it is a harbinger of mites and a distributor as well. It is useless to fight mites and at the same time let sparrows have full possession and free-range of the farm. The sparrows can propagate the mites faster than the most industrious man can destroy them.
We advise a general slaughter of this plagues. Give the sons and daughters so much for every sparrow head and encourage their destruction. We did this on our farm and the youngsters went to work and tore off the top of an old straw shed and got scores of young birds and a great collection of eggs. Then one boy made a scaffold and elevated it in a tree on which he placed poisoned food for them to get. This was in the winter time when there was no danger of any other birds getting the poisoned food. This boy sold more sparrows heads than any other and the farm was rid of sparrows. Guns were brought into requisition to keep them down. Let the good work of killing sparrows go on.—Wisconsin Farmer.

Jumped From a Train.
A sensational escape was made from a Wisconsin Central train on Saturday. Gilbert King, charged with having broken into saloons and a restaurant at Waupun, was arrested at Oshkosh and was being taken to Waupun by Sheriff Hess. When near Neenah, King went into the closest and jumped through the window and escaped. When the jump was made the train was running at the rate of twenty miles an hour.

Held a Pleasant Party.
The Bikes held a dancing party at their hall on Monday evening, at which there were only Bikes in attendance, and a very pleasant evening was spent. Refreshments were served late in the evening and the affair was one to be pleasantly remembered by the fraternity.

How to Treat Brittle Hair.
When the hair is very brittle it denotes some wrong about which a physician should be consulted. An external help may be had in this shampoo: Beat up the yolk of an egg, add ten drops of oil of sweet almonds, a teaspoon of warm water (not boiling) and twenty drops of spirits of rosemary. Then stir. Leave the mixture on the scalp ten minutes, gently manipulating with the finger tips all the time. Then rinse and dry with fresh warm towels.

How to Relieve Bronchial Troubles.
To make an embrocation for bronchial affections take one-quarter of an ounce of olive oil, half an ounce of eucalyptus oil, one-quarter of an ounce of oil of cloves and one-quarter of an ounce of oil of amber. Mix and keep in a glass stoppered bottle and on the first appearance of bronchial trouble massage the neck, chest and back with it. It acts like a charm, relieving and soothing immediately.

How to Clean Varnish Stained Hands.
To remove varnish stains from the hands rub with a little methylated spirit, wipe off with a piece of rag or soft paper, then wash with soap and water.

to effect her escape. "I am a woman of a noble mind," she "knew," she narrated, "in that she is borne down by the sweetest. I ducked my head, and I said, 'I am a woman of a noble mind.'"

Plain Words on Catarrh Cures

Just at this time of the year the newspapers are filled with advertisements of Catarrh cures of one kind or another. In all probability every one of them can be found on sale in our store. But we cannot guarantee these various remedies; of course, they may be meritorious—as to that we cannot say. We buy them from the manufacturers, and certainly would not sell them if we thought they were in any way injurious.

There is one Catarrh cure we know all about, and that Catarrh cure we back up with our reputation as chemists, and with our thousand-fold guarantee. That remedy is REXALL MUCU-TONE.

We know how REXALL MUCU-TONE is made, what medicines are used in compounding it, and the scrupulous care with which it is manufactured, and we know that it is a home, nutritious remedy, that has cured thousands of chronic sufferers from Catarrh.

The very first dose of MUCU-TONE will have you up, will give you new strength and hope, will convince you that at last you have found a medicine that goes right to the spot and does the work for which it is intended; and with each succeeding dose you will feel better and better, stronger and stronger.

You will regain your appetite, will find yourself eating heartily, and will feel that your food is doing you good.

You will note an increase of blood.

Your hands and feet will be warm, instead of cold and clammy.

Your nerves will become steady.

You will sleep soundly, and you will get up in the morning wonderfully refreshed and dependent on this statement. If it does not do all that we have claimed for it, we will immediately refund your money. You can get a large trial bottle for 50 cents.
